Automated decision making

When using the domain <http://digitalandcloudservices.com/>, decisions will not be made in an automated manner.

Data storage period

As a rule, the period of personal data processing by the Administrator depends on the type of service provided and the purpose of processing, including:

- data processed for the purpose of providing electronic services will be processed until they are terminated, e.g. the account is deleted from the Website;
- data processed for the implementation of the Controller's legitimate interest will be processed until it expires or until an effective objection to their processing is submitted (e.g. promotion of the Controller's brand in social media).
- data processed on the basis of the consent expressed by the User, will be processed until its withdrawal (eg consent to marketing).
- the period of data processing may be extended if the processing is necessary to establish and assert any claims or defend against them, and after that time only if and to the extent that it will be required by law.
- after the expiry of the processing period, the data is irreversibly deleted or anonymized.

Data recipients

In connection with the activities described in this policy, personal data may be disclosed to external entities that are service providers to the Administrator, primarily entities responsible for the operation of IT systems and equipment, websites, postal operators or couriers, marketing agencies.

The transfer of such data to third parties takes place in accordance with the provisions of the GDPR, including appropriate security measures, e.g. in the form of data processing contracts.

The Administrator reserves the right to disclose selected information about the User only to state authorities or third parties who submit a request for such information, based on an appropriate legal basis and in accordance with applicable law.

The level of protection of Personal Data outside the European Economic Area ("EEA") differs from that provided by European law. For this reason, the Administrator transfers Personal Data outside the EEA only when it is necessary and with an adequate level of protection, primarily through:

- cooperation with entities processing personal data in countries for which a relevant decision of the European Commission has been issued regarding the assurance of an adequate level of protection of Personal Data;
- application of standard contractual clauses issued by the European Commission;
- application of binding corporate rules approved by the competent supervisory authority.

User rights

The user has the following rights:

- access to the content of the data, including the right to obtain a copy of the data - that is, to obtain information about the purpose and method of processing personal data, categories of personal data being processed, about recipients or categories of recipients to whom personal data have been or will be disclosed, the planned period of personal data storage, or right to request the Administrator to rectify, delete or limit the processing of personal data, the right to submit a complaint to the supervisory body, and a copy of the data;

- demand their rectification - that is, correct personal data when they are incorrect, changed or become obsolete and requests to supplement incomplete personal data;
- demand their deletion - that is, deletion of data processed without any legitimate legal grounds;
- processing restrictions - that is, data processing restrictions in cases where:
 - the data subject questions the accuracy of the personal data,
 - the processing is unlawful and the data subject objects to the erasure of personal data,
 - the controller no longer needs personal data for the purposes of processing, but they are needed by a person to establish, assert or defend claims,
 - the person has objected to the processing - until it is determined whether the legitimate grounds on the part of the Administrator override the grounds for the objection of the person;
- the right to transfer data - that is, to obtain your personal data that you have provided to us or to indicate another administrator to whom we should provide it, if technically possible;
- the right to object - an objection may be raised only against the processing of data based on the legitimate interest of the Administrator (eg contact purpose). The administrator will cease processing data for these purposes, unless there are other overriding legitimate grounds for processing;
- the right to withdraw consent - you can withdraw your consent at any time. From such an instruction, the data will continue to be processed for the purpose covered by the consent. Please note that the exercise of this right does not affect the compliance of data processing by the Administrator prior to the withdrawal of consent;
- the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory body dealing with the protection of personal data, ie www.uodo.gov.pl
- the right not to be subjected to the process of automated decision making, including profiling, if such activities have legal effects on you or otherwise significantly affect you. However, we may use an automated decision-making process when such a decision:
 - it is permitted on the basis of separate legal provisions or
 - takes place after you have given your consent.

In the event that you will be subjected to the process of automated decision-making, including profiling, you have the right to receive the intervention of our employee who will additionally verify your situation and the decision made, you can present your position or question the decision made.

Ways of exercising the User's rights

The User may exercise his rights by submitting the content of the request in the following way:

- by sending an e-mail to the following address: iod@t-mobile.pl
- by phone: 602 900 000
- by sending a message via the website: digitalandcloudservices.com
- via traditional mail:
 - T Mobile Polska S.A., ul. Marynarska 12, 02-674 Warsaw

If the Administrator is not able to identify the User on the basis of the submitted request, he will ask for additional information. Providing such data is not obligatory, but failure to provide it will result in the refusal to fulfill the request.
